

Mining for God

By popular demand the Reverend David Hasson is planning more Mining for God tours at the slate mine at Honister.

The first of these will be on Friday 6 April at 2.00pm and will have an Easter theme to it. The cost will be approximately £14. If you can't make that date then, on the three Friday afternoons of the Keswick Convention, 20 & 27 July, and 3 August, at 2.00pm the tours will take place again.

Last year there were 92 adults and three children over the three tours

David Hasson says, “Those attending found the experience to be unique, learning something about how the slate came to be and is worked; the lives of the quarrymen all those years ago and relating that to modern day concerns, all within the context of worship with hymns, prayers and bible readings”.

As last year, the tours will be led by Tori Jones one of the experienced guides at the mine.. 2018 is likely to be the last year of the tours organised by David especially as Tori is moving on to train for the Methodist Ministry.

Brochures and booking forms may be obtained from David Hasson in electronic format by emailing revhasson@aol.com.
